On Thursday 24 June, as part of the AMOPA Irlande Talk Series, Dr. Sylvie Kleinman, Visiting Research Fellow in History at Trinity College Dublin, will be our guest.

Dr. Kleinman will take us on a 'walking dialogue' through the streets of Dublin to discover, or rediscover, some historical links between France and Ireland through the centuries. Our virtual walk will pass through well-known lieux de mémoires, such as the Huguenots and the Republican mission of Theobald Wolfe Tone. However, the big names of History will not dominate our evening! We will also go through lesser-travelled lanes to learn about the origins of the tricolour ... with a small detour through Paris-Ouest.
